Merito Finishes a Nose in Front of Ethics at Long Odds-One Favorite Succeeds.

John G. Follansbee's smart filly, Astarita, by Bathampton-Lola A., won the Willow Stakes for two-year-old fillies at Gravesend yesterday. The distance was five and a half furlongs and Astarita covered it in 1:06 3-5. a new record for the race and track. The best previous figures were 1:06 4-5, made by W. C. Whitney's King Hanover, carrying 122 pounds, last September. Astarita packed 115 pounds, with a pound overweight, as Patsy McCue had the mount, and was asked to dispose of a big field, which included some good youngsters. In the betting Mr. Follansbee's filly was made a favorite at fours, with E. L. Graves's Stamping Ground and Mrs. L. Curtis's Eugenia Burch, in high esteem at fives and sixes, respectively.

Once away from the barrier, it did not take Astarita long to show her superiority, for she rushed to the front and, making all of the running, won in a sharp drive by a half a length. S. Sanford & Sons' Molly Brant, who won at Saratoga, but who was quoted at the generous odds of 25 to 1, was second all the way, keeping the place by a short neck from Eugenia Burch, who got away slowly, but came so fast in the last quarter that she might have won under more favorable circumstances. Stamping Ground left the post sluggishly and never got into fourth, a selling affair at a mile and a furlong. in which Merito, Ethics and Bar le Due were the only starters. Ethics was a 3 to 5 favorite, with Merito well backed at twos. Merito set the pace around the lower turn and up the backstretch, with Ethics less than a length away and Bar le Due two lengths back. At the head of the stretch it looked as if Ethics had the race, but Redfern got to work on Merito and the game mare came again with such a tremendous spurt that Cochran had to put Ethics under the whip. In doing so Ethics swerved and bumped Merito out of her stride, while Bar le Due, let down, looked as if he might run over both. Redfern, however, never ceased his efforts, and in a dingdong finish he landed Merito winner by a nose, with Ethics getting the place by a short head, although many spectators thought that Bar le Due best him in the last jump. The time was 1:53 4-5. in which Merito, Ethics and Bar le Duc were Bar le Duo beat him in the last jump. The time was 1:53 4-5.

The sixth event was another three horse race, the distance being a mile and a sixteenth. It was for three-year-olds and W. S. Fanshaw's Heno was backed down to 9 to 10 favorite, S. Sanford & Sons' Rockwater steady at 6 to 5. W. C. Whitney's Slipthrift, 10 to 1, attempted to make a runaway of it and led to the top of the stretch, where Rockwater oaught him and won in a bot drive by a neck in the fast time of 146 3-5. Heno under the whip all the way down the stretch, was beaten half a length by Mr. Whitney's colt.

was beaten half a length by Mr. Whitney's colt.

Musette, 12 to 1, upset the talent by winning the first race, a handicap for all ages, at a bout six furlongs. She was in front all the journey and won in a gallop by three lengths in 1 10 2-5. Wealth took the place in the last jump by a neck from the favorite. Arsenal, who came from the rear when it was too late.

Senator McCarren's Potente landed the second event at a mile and seventy yards by a length after getting away poorly and running a fine race. Malster, 20 to 1, was second choice. The Referee, favorite, made the running for three-quarters of a mile, but was short. The time was 146 2-5, close to the track record.

J. B. Haggin's Boutonnière, second choice, beat a big field of maiden two-year-olds in the fifth event, galloping home four lengths in frent of Manru, 30 to 1, who beat Benefiit, 30 to 1, a head. Five favorites, therefore, lost.

The committee on district medal allecation composed of John McGaw, Thomas Wigley, James E. Cockburn, Robert Smith and James Shaw, submitted the following schedule for 1902-03 which was unanimously adopted:

Umptres.

Empire City vs. Caledonian. Van Cortlandt
It was the first time in twenty-four years that Secretary David Foules was absent from his post, and his piace was filled by Thomas Nicholson. The grand old man of the 'Toarin' game,' in a note from Lakewood, declined a nomination for the office, and as a mark of esteem for his services it was proposed to present to him a gold watch suitably inserthed. More than $100 was subscribed for the memento before the meeting adjourned.
The nomination for officers was then proceeded with, and the following were elected:

MIKE DWYER SAW ETHICS LOSE

SAID TO HAVE BET $10,000 ON HIS GOOD COLT.

Quiet Day in the Ring, Where Astarita Was the Only Aid to the Public-Gossip of the Turf Gleaned at the Gravesend Track-Jockey Wonderly Indisposed.

When Ethics was beaten a nose by Merito in the fourth race yesterday, Michael F. Dwyer, once the biggest plunger on the American turf, sat in a buggy at the paddock rail and calmly twirled his thumbs. Ethics ran in his name instead of that of his son, and Cochran wore the famous colors, "white with gold tassel." For the past two years Ethics has been the means of placing Mr. Dwyer once again on his financial feet. He has won many big bets on the colt's victories, and is now said to have a fair share of this world's goods. Never in his career on the turf was Mr. Dwyer known to express outward signs of distress over reverses, and so when Ethics was beaten by a couple of inches yesterday the well-known turfman merely ooked on with consummate self-possession. There was a rumor affoat that Mr. Dwyer sent a $10,000 commission into the ring on Ethics, but this was denied by persons who said they were in a position to know what they were talking about. There was also a report that the turfman's son put a big bet on Merito, but this could not be run down to a basis of fact. But, just the same, the defeat of Ethics and the calm demeanor of his owner reminded horsemen of the old days when Mr. Dwxer bet as much as $40,000 to a race and lost with wonderful equanimity.

It was a rather quiet day in the betting ring. There were no sensational plunges by millionaires, and even the Ullman-Weller book felt the general drought. Ullman himself found time to make a whole package of cigarettes while holding up his slate for public inspection. The victory of Astarita in the Willow Stakes was the only balm for the players of favorites. This filly was widely played all three ways, some of her backers getting as much as 6 to 1 for their money. The Lotos Stable's Miladi Love and L. V. Bell's Lady Albercraft were added starters in this stake, which was won last year by J. W. Schorr's celebrated Endurance by Right, whose time was 1:08 2-5, with 119 pounds. Previous win-ners of the Willow were Reclare, Yorkville Belle, Helen Nichols, Handspun, Annot Lyle, Princess Flavia, Kitefoot, Acushla, Oneck Queen and Janice. Up to and including 1894 the distance was six furlongs, but it was 1894 the distance was six furiongs, but it was five furiongs in 1895 and 1896.

Wild Thyme, Rosewater, Duster, Oleflant, Love Note and Lady Albercraft ware all backed in the show books in the Willow Stakes. Those who remembered Molly Brant's victory in the $5,000 Adirondack Handicap at Saratoga did not let her big odds go begging.

The betting on the handicap for all ages indicated bewilderment on the part of the talent. While Arsenal was the favorite at 4 to 1, and there was backing for The Musketeer, Lord Pepper, Clorita, Demurrer, Wealth and Belle of Lexington. The Musketer looked dangerous to the head of the stretch, but like most of Frank Farrell's horses died away when the crucial test came.

Senator McCarren appears to be the most successful big bettor at the track these days. When his gelding Potente won the second race he had a commission down to show and, of course, cashed. It is said the Senator is $200,000 alread of the game on this years' operations. He admits having won $40,000 on The Rival last Friday alone.

When the horses in the second race rushed around the lower turn there was so much crowding that Kingraine was jammed to the rail and Martin had a narrow escape from a severe full. Potente was constantly bumped and interfered with, which made his success all the more praiseworthy.

Major Carson and his wife were among five furlongs in 1895 and 1896. bumped and literier was eventry.

It is success all the more praiseworthy.

Major Carson and his wife were among those who visited the paddock before the running of the Willow Stakes. The Major bred Eugenia Burch and wanted to look the Ben Stronie filly over.

Curlers congregated yesterday at the New York Caledonian Club for the thirty-sixth annual convention of the Grand National Curling Club of America. The session was of exceptional importance in view of the proposed visit this winter of team of Scottish curlers to the United States and Canada. Early in the afternoon the Executive Committee met and disposed of a lot of minor details, so that in the convention in the evening it was plain sailling. Alfred H. BILLY MADDEN RETURNS.

With Him Are Gus Ruhlin and Denver Ed Martin Wants Fights for His Men. Billy Madden and his pair of big scrappers, returned from Europe. Madden's men have had a successful trip. Under Madden's watchful eye Ruhlin defeated Tom Sharkey before the National Sporting Club in June, while Martin trimmed Sandy Ferguson, Frank Craig, the "Harlem Coffee Cooler," twice and Bob Armstrong. That Madden does not intend to let the grass grow under his feet while here is evident. He will "get husy," he says, at once and look up matches for his respective men.

"Of course, the first thing we intend to do," said Madden, "is to go after Jim Jeffries. He is the man we want, because he is champion. Admitting that he has already defented Ruhlin, that is no proof that he can do the trick again. If you could have seen Ruhlin fight Tom Sharkey you would not have dreamed that he was the same man who was whipped by the Poilermaker last year. He is a better man now, in my opinion, than he has been for years. Should Jeffries ignore Gus I will direct my attention toward Bob Fitzsimmons. We will agree to any reasonable date and place suitable to Fitz. Should both Fitzsimmons and Jeffries place a ban on Ruhlin I will offer them a match with my colored champion, Denver Ed Martin.

"There are no flies on Martin, even if I his feet while here is evident. He will "get

There are no flies on Martin, even if I say so myself. He is the eleverest negro puglist in the world, not even overlooking the late Peter Jackson. Since I took hold of Martin he has developed into a wonder. He knows how to punch, is game and is up to date. Martin is champion of England and Rublin is champion of Ireland."

 NEW YORK, 9. BROOKLYN, 2.

The New Yorks braced up yesterday at the Polo Grounds and by hitting their one-time boxman, Evans, hard and otten, beat the Brooklyns with as little trouble as the Brooklyns have been beating them lately. It was a game without thrills, easy-going, one-sided and commonplace. The Brooklyns played with so little vim that they were beaten when the New Yorks made four runs in the first inning. The Harlennites cooked Evans's goose at the outset. They made lour singles and Evans made a wild pitch and gave two bases on balls. The other Brooklynites suffered from the malady of listlessness. Metianity took the steam out of them with nitching that they could not fathom. A missed third strike allowed one New Yorker to score in the fifth inning, and while the Brooklyns were hurling the ball around heedlessly another man scampered home. Those who were awake in the ninth inning saw Brodie and Lauder end the duil dispute with a neat play. Irwin tried to chase trom first to third on a hit to right centre. Brodie took the ball on the first bound and let go to third without an instant's loss of time. The ball bounded poorly to Lauder, but he granbed it and his quick swing caught the surprised Irwin just as the latter passed him and was within a foot of the base. Swift handling at both ends and rapid thinking constituted the merit of the only brisk play of the game.

scheduled for next Monday night.

The hearing furnished a sensation, Stakeholder Lambertson, the first witness, testify-ing to a "secret agreement" between McGovern and Young Corbett, by which Corbett was to get the lion's share of the purse. Mr.

Lambertson testified that the "secret-agreement" arrangement was confided to him by Sam Harris, Terry McGovern's manager. At the opening of the inquiry Capt. W. F. Norton, owner of the Auditorium Theatre, where the fight is billed to take place, suggested that the proceedings be opened with Mr. Lambertson was called and testified that he held the forfeits of the fighters and of the Southern Athletic Club, $2.500 each. He said McGovern and Corbett had agreed to forfeit this sum if they failed to keep their agreement with the club, viz., that each should be in this city on the afternoon of the fight and weigh in at 127 pounds. The club, he said was to forfeit its deposit if it failed to pull off the fight.

"Do you know of any other agreement with the club, he said the fight." off the fight.
"Do you know of any other agreement besides the one you have testified to?" was besides the one you have testified to?" was asked.
"Sam Harris told me," replied Lambertson, "that there was a second, or secret agreement, by which Corbett was to have the lion's share of the purse."
"In your opinion is the bout as scheduled in danger of being a brutal exhibition?" was asked in cross-examination.
"I wouldn't say brutal." replied Lambertson, "but I know of no physical contest that is absolutely safe unless it be a game of ping-pone." note to put and sectovers are in Figor-ous training at Circinnati and are said to be in excellent condition Betting is fairly brisk, the odds being about 5 to 4 in McGov-ern's favor.

The outcome of the injunction proceedings before Circuit Judge Emmet Field to-morrow is the chief topic in sporting circles to-day. The promoters are still very hopeful.
